Hitching to a Star.

"Hitching to a Star," the lecture at the Opera House, Thursday evening by Dr. Wentworth F. Stewart of Detroit, Mich., was a lecture if heeded and lived up to would make a success of every life who lived it. The vital points of well living were touched with an artist hand, made skilful by real acquired knowledge. His advice was that "whatever you do, do not be a pessimist." "Be masters of yourselves," and there is no need of being a pessimist.

He said the subject of his lecture did not have much to do with his lecture but every lecturer had got the habit of having a subject and so his lecture had this one. Be cheerful; take affairs as they come along; do whatever kind of work engaged in in the best manner possible; travel and read and study and enjoy what the old world has to give us. Above all have high ideals and hitch to those ideals instead of groveling things.

He came up from Lewiston by way of an auto and did not arrive at the hall till a few minutes late, but the audience readily forgave that. He was introduced by Rev. B. C. Wentworth, his friend who secured this lecture. Dr. Stewart visited Mr. Wentworth, Friday.

Funeral of Mrs. A. K. Hill.

Mrs. A. K. Hill was a member of the Norway Universalist church; she was also a charter member of Frederick Robie Grange, which order she belonged to for several years.

The funeral service was at the residence, Sept. 8, attended by Rev. B. S. Rideout. A large attendance of neighbors and friends was present to show their sympathy and respect, and to render what assistance they could. The deceased was one who was well known, loved and respected by all for her upright life, her cheerful word and thoughtfulness of others. The flowers were many and beautiful.

House Burned.

The house off Water street owned by John Prince and occupied by Scott Truman burned to the ground, Monday afternoon. The fire company was called out by the fire alarm's ringing at about 2 30 but the fire had made so much headway that the building could not be saved. The Truman family saved nothing but a suit of clothes belonging to Mr. Truman. It is not known how the fire caught.

Charles A. Richardson, who has driven a meat cart into the village for several years past, is looking for a location to open a meat market in town. He has leased his farm in Greenwood Hollow for a year and thinks of moving his family into town and becoming a citizen here.

From the orchard of Freeman H. Bennett of Albany comes to us apple blossoms mixed with apples. There are several nice bunches of blossoms and two well formed apples on the same stalk. These were shown us by William McDaniels, assisted by Phil Young. From here they were taken to the fair grounds.

There was a scare on Main street, Monday afternoon just after the fire on Water street. A big column of smoke poured out of Mrs. Hatttie Harmon's house over Otto Schnuer's. The Chief of the fire department was passing and he rushed up stairs, also others including Mrs. Harmon from the public library, where she is librarian. It was a kettle of preserves that was slowly cooking on the stove that had become unruly.

The Baby Show.

The mothers wore a little anxious look but the babies were all right. Some of the babies were little and had not seen long in this world of nice babies. There was one pair of twins 16 weeks old. Some had curls.

Mrs. H. L. Rand, Worcester, Mass.; Mrs. Goode of Oxford, Mrs. C. Tolman of Greenland, N. H., are the committee all people out of Norway. Most of the inhabitants of these two towns know the babies. The President of the society, Wm. J. Wheeler made a little speech to the mothers and the babies, announced the committee and left them in the hands of the committee.

The committee understood babies for they talked to them, asked questions of the mothers the while and often the babies would laugh and talk back in new baby language. The French and the American babies all talked the same language.

Some Great Racing.

Tuesday.

The afternoon races were started at 1.30 o'clock with F. M. Simmons, Rockland, Me., as starter. Timers: John B. Robinson, Oxford, Thos. Thibodeau and Frank Richardson, Norway. Judges: Wm. Gregg, Andover, W. H. Kilgore, Waterford and Chas. Crosby, Norway. Clerk of course, P. E. Hathaway.

The 2-year old event failed to materialize, leaving but two races for the afternoon. Starter Simmons won the applause from every interested spectator by his wise counsel to each driver before the first heat of the two events.

American Law, 2 21¼, from the Mountain View Stock Farm, was exhibited before the stand and won generous applause.

A. S. Fuller of Oxford was the marshall about the track, and handled the people in his easy manner.

Altissimus won first money; Alcy Bell secured second; Louise Buckford got third; the fourth money divided between Robert P. and Nortbland Bonton.

A. E. Parrott of Providence, R. I., was an interested spectator in the judge's stand during each day's races. Mr. Parrott is a native of Oxford and remained in that town until quite a young man, going from there to Portland, thence to his present location. His family are enjoying a visit of two weeks at Oxford.

Wednesday.

Shortly after noon the crowd commenced to surge across the track on to the spacious stand, which accommodates two thousand people.

The St. Cecilian Band of twenty-five pieces entertained the large audience around the judge's stand and their music was well rendered, This juvenile band played here last year and proved satisfactory and the management chose wisely when they secured these uniformed youngsters for the 67th annual.

A chilly breeze swept through the stand but was not really uncomfortable until late in the afternoon after the sun had passed behind the structure, casting cheerless shadows across the track. Nevertheless everybody enjoyed the races and there was no end of enthusiasm when favorites gained advantage during the heats.

The Officials.

The same officials were drawn to attend to the afternoon program as were present Tuesday.

F. M. Simmons of Rockland was starter; Thos. Thibodeau, Frank Richardson of Norway, and John B. Robinson of Oxford were timers; William Gregg of Andover, Charles Crosby of South Paris and W. H. Kilgore of Waterford were the judges; while Percy E. Hathaway of South Paris was clerk of the courts. A. S. Fuller of Oxford presided about the track and stables as marshal.

Starter Simmons is a new official with us but made a favorable impression among horsemen as a competent and fair minded worker.

2.30 Class, Trot and Pace. Purse $200.

The 2.30 class, trot and pace, was the first race called. Dora L. owned by A. E. Russell, Waterville, was drawn and Juna V. owned by H. E. Wells, Laconia, N. H., took the place and made a splendid field. The tight simmered down to a close encounter between The Indian and La Culbert; the first mentioned black gelding winning a long drawn out contest under a formal protest entered by Hayder of LaCulbert because of the kind of sulky used by driver Woodbury of the winner.

Base Ball.

1st Game, Radcliffe 2; Lewiston 0.

The first game in a series of three to be played between Radcliffe of Norway and the Lewistons during the fair was run off Tuesday afternoon: Manager Daley brought from Lewiston a fast combination of well seasoned players and they passed up a fine article. Radcliffe was managed by Percy Nevers and Frank Lanan, by reason of Wm. Leith's absence, but this new arrangement worked finely and the team played with a snap and vim. Odell Rich occupied the box for Norway and did a clever turn. His support was nearly perfect so the game was all that could be desired.

Ball Games Wednesday.

Seven thousand people gathered about the diamond at 10 o'clock where Radcliffe of Norway and Lewiston crossed bats to decide upon a winner in the second game of the County Fair series.

Both teams presented nearly the same line-up as offered Tuesday except in the pitcher's box, Radcliffe using L. Pike of Hebron, and Lewiston had Driscoll. Both pitchers worked hard and had excellent support. Radcliffe however put up the better game as they made only one fielding error against five to their opponents. They nailed out nine hits to the Lewiston's four and out-played the city combination in many other particulars, thanks to the clear headed coaching of Clason.

WOMEN'S WOES

Norway Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constant aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know.

Mrs. P. Walker, Cottage St., Norway, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and must acknowledge that I have been greatly benefited. While my case was in no way serious, I was in misery all the time. The symptoms pointed to a severe kidney disorder. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them and procured a box at Stone's Drug Store. In a short time after commencing their use I felt much better and, as I continued taking them, I steadily improved. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as an excellent remedy for kidney disease." 37-38

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for much sickness and suffering, therefore, if kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are most likely to follow. Your other organs may need attention, but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first. Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. A trial will convince you of its great merit.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest because its remarkable health restoring properties have been proven in thousands of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Why We Are Stronger.

The old Greeks and Romans were great admirers of health and strength; their pictures and statuary made the muscles of the men stand out like cords.

As a matter of fact we have athletes and strong men—men fed on fine strength making food such as Quaker Oats—that would win in any contest with the old Roman or Greek champions.

It's a matter of food. The finest food for making strength of bone, muscle and nerve is fine oatmeal. Quaker Oats is the best because it is pure, no husks or stems or black specks. Farmers' wives are finding that by feeding the farm hands plentifully on Quaker Oats they get the best results in work and economy. If you are convenient to the store, buy the regular size packages; if not near the store buy the large size family package. 2

White Pine Blight.

The white-pine blight is a complex of several different diseases.

The leaf-blight is the disease which has persisted longest in many localities. Its cause is as yet undetermined. It was much less prevalent in 1908 than in 1907 and many affected trees have partially recovered, while no new ones became diseased. This is believed to be the most important form of blight.

The twig-blight caused by Lophodermium may occur another season if the weather is especially favorable for the fungus, but serious damage from this disease is not at all common. The other twig-blights are transitory in character and have thus far caused no permanent damage. Any or all of them may not occur again in the next ten years, and they may recur within one or two years, though this is not likely. The total damage caused by the blight is comparatively slight, only scattering trees having yet been killed. Trees die constantly from the effect of competition among themselves, from the attacks of insects, from root-rot, and from lightning, and the timber owner must be careful not to confuse trees killed in this way with those killed by the blight.

Those trees which are so badly diseased as to unable to recover ought to be cut and utilized, for the same reasons that any dying tree should be removed from the forest. There is absolutely no reason known at present for cutting trees that are able to recover or that are healthy. [U. S. Department Agriculture.]

A Wish Gratified.

What We Saw in Historical Plymouth, Mass.

One of the fondest wishes of our life was gratified Friday, Sept. 3d, when we boarded the steamer, "Betty Alden," and left Boston harbor for the dear old historic town of Plymouth.

After a magnificent sail of some three hours we pulled up to the landing and our patriotic feelings rose to the surface, and our eyes feasted on the doric columns and porticoes of Pilgrims Hall, within whose walls can be seen many relics of Pilgrim and Colonial days.

The main hall is 46x89 feet. Fronting the entrance is a painting of The Landing of the Pilgrims valued at $3,000, painted by Henry Sargent and presented to the Pilgrim society by him in 1824.

We saw the Bible belonging to Gov. Bradford, the chairs belonging to Elder Brewster and Gov. Carver, which were brought over in the Mayflower, as well as 650 other relics, among which was the cradle in which was rocked Peregrine White, the first child born in the colony; the sword of Miles Standish, which Longfellow alludes to in his poem.

Our hearts glowed within us as we looked on the rock, which is the corner stone of a great nation. On this rock is engraved 1620 and on the rock is built a granite canopy measuring 15 square feet and is 30 feet high.

Leaving the rock we took a carriage and the views one gets driving through this beautiful old town must be seen to be appreciated.

First we saw the "Congregationalist Church of the Pilgrimage," which is said to stand on the exact spot occupied by the first church of the Pilgrims. Opposite this church is an old house built in 1759.

On Burial Hill is seen the monument of Gov. Bradford, Robert and Thomas Cushman. From the hill one gets a beautiful view of the town and barbor, and of the Miles Standish monument.

As we pause a moment we are filled with reverence for the heroic souls, who sowed the seeds from which have sprung a great nation, and the very ground we stood on seemed sacred for we knew that close around us are the last resting places of the first comers, and the epitaphs on the old gravestones possess much charm to lovers of the quaint and curious.

On Allerton street we pass the national monument, a statue which stands 40 feet high, and is the largest stone figure in the world. The total height of figure and base is 81 feet. This was presented by Hon. Oliver Ames at a cost of $30,000.

Turning our backs on rocks and relics, on memorials and monuments, on ancient streets and "traditional stones," we find ourselves within the borders of a town of more than 40,000 acres of wood land, much of which is in the same primitive state of wilderness which was trodden by our forefathers.

Beautiful lakes and ponds wind around hills, roads hardened by the use of nearly three centuries afford delightful driveways, springs of water abound on every side and many sheets of water are embosomed in the wild forests, in which the deer, eagle and wild duck still find a resting place.

In 1895 the valuation of the town was $6,678,700 and has the following industries:—

The largest cordage manufactory in the world, two cotton and woolen mills, three tack and rivet mills, one nail and plate iron mill, zinc and copper rolling mills. Firms own their zinc and copper mines in Tennessee. One large stove foundry, two shoe factories, one barrel, keg and box factory, two wire factories, two straw hat factories, eight small industries of different kinds, and print two newspapers. The town has public water works, gas works and electric lights. There are eight churches, a new $40,000 school building, a bank and a library.

Hints for the Cook.

Meat for roasting should not be washed, but wiped with a dry cloth.

Bacon rinds should be scalded and used for flavoring stocks and stews.

Sausages should heat gradually when cooking to prevent the skins bursting.

To keep milk sweet add a teaspoonful of fine salt to every quart of milk.

Acid fruits are decidedly better in color and flavor when cooked in earthenware pots.

Do not salt stock till it has been thoroughly skimmed, as the salt prevents the scum from rising.

Mix pastry several hours before it is required and much labor is saved. Always stand it in a cool place.

If fat catches fire throw salt on it at once to prevent a disagreeable smell.

Before broiling a steak dust it with salt and pepper and rub it with salad oil. This will greatly improve it.

Happy those who are just entering on their vacations. They have the finest time of the year ahead of them.

WHAT IS HYOMEI?

You Have heard About the Catarrh Cure Noyes Drug Store Guarantees.

Hyomei is a wonderful antiseptic, so powerful that it promptly destroys germ life, yet its action on the mucous membrane is extremely soothing and healing. It relieves catarrh in five minutes; it cures in a few weeks or money back.

It is made chiefly of eucalyptus and eucalyptol taken from the eucalyptus forests of inland Australia. The medical profession knows that eucalyptus is an absolute certain germ destroyer and with the active principles of eucalyptus as a base Hyomei is made more efficient, pleasant and quick acting by the addition of Thymol, an antiseptic and disinfectant largely employed in the Listerian System. Guaiacol and other important medicinal agents are also included in the Hyomei formula, which, without doubt, is the greatest destroyer of catarrh germs the world has ever known.

Hyomei is a powerful, penetrating antiseptic that is pleasant to use. It does not contain a particle of cocaine, opium or any habit-forming or injurious drug.

No dosing the stomach when you use Hyomei. Just breathe it in through the small inhaler that comes with each outfit. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Norway by Noyes Drug Store. $1.00 for complete outfit. 38-40

Tailor Suits.

These have the long coat (which looks more or less solemn) and plaited skirts, the plaits set on a deep yoke at back and front, but the sides are plain. Coats may button diagonally or straight, and occasionally a little braiding is on the sides of the coat skirt. As all feminies do not want an entire suit, independent coats of black broadcloth are shown in large numbers, some having a simple velvet collar and cuffs, then again others are elaborately braided all around and closed at the throat by elegant passementerie tassels. Straps of braiding put on slanting with buttons in the center at regular spaces on the fronts are a handsome addition. Blue broadcloth coats are brought out, but black is more stylish. Coats of white and pale shades are in great vogue for evening.

Electra Newell Brown.

Electra Newell Brown was born in Norway, April 4, 1839. She was the daughter of Titus Olcott and Nancy (Dennison) Brown. More than half her life was spent in Portland, where she was a member of the High Street Congregational church and active in the work of its ladies' society. She belonged to a woman's club, and was a visitor at the Maine General hospital.

For a few years she resided in Oberlin, Ohio. When she came back to Norway to live in 1902, she became again a member of the Second Congregational church here, with which as a child she united, and has been helpful in all its work. She took great pleasure in her connection with the Barton club, always attending its meetings when she was well.

She died Thursday evening, Sept. 9th, just before eight o'clock, having just returned from a pleasant three days visit in Portland, where she met many old friends.

The funeral was from her home Sunday afternoon, conducted by her pastor, Rev. B. S. Rideout. Kind friends bore her to her last resting place. We can truthfully say of her, as was said of Enoch of old, she walked with God. She was not for God took her.

Boston Comedy Company.

H. Price Webber conducted a very successful three nights' engagement in the Opera House last night, where he has been greeted with very large and well-pleased audiences, who have enthusiastically applauded the excellent acting of Edwina Gray and the company. Just before the conclusion of the last performance, Mr. Webber stepped in front of the curtain, and in a neat speech said:

"Ladies and gentlemen—In this the occasion of our last appearance for the present, allow me to make a few remarks. It is just 33 years ago this very date when I first asked the people of Norway for their patronage.

"Since that time, I have appeared here every year except five—28 years out of 33—and have always received a warm welcome. I never can forget the fact that to your goodness I was enabled to keep on the Eastern circuit when assailed by sickness and bad weather.

"When I was in trouble your citizens, prominent among them the late General George L. Beal, came to my aid and helped me on my way. I have always borne cheerful testimony for all the kindness I have met with from the people of Norway, and have tried to return it when I could. For a man to come here for the length of time I have, and be so well treated, is something to feel proud of, and while my memory lasts, it will always retain a grateful feeling towards you.

"I have made it a paint to give you respectable comedies and dramas interpreted by a respectable company, and that I have succeeded, your presence all these years amply testifies. I thank Mr. Sanborn of the Norway ADVERTISER for his kindly references to the company. I hope to return and see you next year, ladies and gentlemen, and once more, on behalf of my wife, the company and myself, thank you for your kindness, your courtesy, your large patronage and always warm welcome for a period extending over 33 years."

The genial Manager's remarks were cheered to the echo, and we will all be glad to see him next year.

As our public schools open next Monday the pastor of the Congregational church will give a sermon on the subject "The kind of an education needed by the children and young people."

Arthur Richardson, known as "Peco," got his foot jammed and a bone broken in a log carriage recently. He uses a cane and limps when walking.

Wesley H. Ginn and wife of Portland are visiting his sister, Mrs. Porter B. Swift and husband and Mr. Ginn's mother, also attending the fair.

a favorable impression but with a bad set-back in first heat he closed in nearer the wire in the second but lost during the third heat. Islander more than made good and carried off first in the three heats easily. Paul Boone proved a close competitor and looked dangerous during the third heat.

2.50 Class, Trot. Purse $150.

There were five starters on the card in the 2.50 class trot but Gertrude Patchen and Bob Patch were taken out and General Direct owned by Morrill of Brunswick substituted, making a field of four good appearing trotters. A glance at the score will show how the race was pulled off without split heats or changes of any kind. The first heat may be considered as the best for it was trotted at the lowest figure, while the third proved but a moderate buggy ride.

Features.

Between the races that noted stallion Archillian, son of Archille (2 15¼) owned by F. O. Walker, Rumford, was shown under the wire, and many blue ribbons show the real worth of this beautiful animal.

American Law (2 21) owned by J. F. Howland of the Mountain View Stock Farm, South Paris, was another beautiful stallion brought before the stand. He is considered today one of the leading sires in the State of Maine. Attorney-at-Law (2.28) by American Law, American Blossom and American Princess both by American Law and owned by J. F. Howland were also brought on, receiving generous applause. Billy Nelson has charge of this string and is justly proud of the honor.

A distinct feature of the afternoon track events was Carlotta (2.27¼) that wonderful "guiderless horse." The intelligent animal went on an exhibition mile without driver or sulky and unaided in 2 31¼. It was a beautiful performance and a genuine surprise to hundreds. The owner, Geo. McMannimin, of Rumford is proud of this splendid horse and Billy Nelson, the trainer, cannot hide his satisfied smile at the deafening applause and shouts of approval from the admiring thousands.

The Races Thursday.

Regardless of indications pointing toward rainy weather several thousand people wandered from the mid-way to the grandstand to witness the fast events scheduled for the last afternoon.

The boys' band was stationed again on the platform close to the wire and rendered selections from marches to Operatic airs with a dash and finish not expected from a juvenile organization. They showed a marked improvement over last season's performance, probably because of the instrumentation being changed, with stronger bass and many additions in the reed section. Their work was brilliant, so received many encores during the afternoon

The same officials were in the judges' stand and attended strictly to duty as during the previous days.

F. W. Simmons of Rockland, the starter, proved to be the right man in that position. His fairness to horse owners, drivers and to the immense crowd about the track and stand was a topic of general discussion, only words of warmest praise was heard for his amiable manner of conducting each day's races. Mr. Simmons has been a horseman all his life, having acted in the capacity as judge for more than twenty years and starter during the past three seasons.

Hiram won first money; Attorney at Law carried away second; Oceanna caught third; Wilkes Sherwood got fourth.

2.40 Class, Trot and Pace. Purse $200.

The 2 40 class trot and pace was a winner from start to finish owing to several features coming to the surface during the several heats. Maggie Bogash started the excitement in the first heat when she upset her driver as the field were scoring and broke up the sulky. After a short delay the bunch were straightened out and the heat was pulled off. This same mare came into the limelight again in the third heat when Billy Nelson replaced the regular driver; bringing this favorite under the wire with two firsts and one second. Maggie Bogash made a decided hit with the crowd, and she was cheered to the echo whenever John Nicols or Nelson brought her before the stand.

Free For All, Trot and Pace. Purse $250.

This race was looked forward to with considerable interest because of the fast field of starters, each with a low mark. Each driver played the game and used up considerable valuable time jockeying under the wire. Repeated warnings from Starter Simmons had the effect of cutting away much of this tiresome routine so the raced proved fully up to expectations.

Track Record Broken

The track record of 2.16 was smashed by half a second in the first heat of the Free-For-All. Silk Patchen, driven by Ira Woodbury, cleaned the circle in 2.15½, doing the first quarter in .32½; the half in 1 06; and the three quarters in 1 41 This was a clean performance and made without a skip.

Features.

American Law, the beautiful stallion from the Mountain View Stock Farm, was again shown before the judges stand. Directorate, the noted stallion standing sixteen hands and weighing 1160 lbs., owned by Wm. J. Wheeler, South Paris, was also brought out and received generous applause. Directorate's sire is Dare Devil, a stallion noted for his handsome appearance and symmetry. Carlotta (2.26½) "The Guideless Wonder," was a great feature again Thursday and went a mile in 2 33. Billy Nelson, the trainer, worked up this act in less than a year and has given the people of Maine one of the greatest track sensations for a score of years, considering the fact that the performer is nearly 18 years old and does the stunt directly from the stable without any warming up.

Brood Mares and Colts.

This year this exhibit occupied many of the stalls near the stand and many stalls along the southern limits of the grounds.

Vastistas owned by the Norway Percheron Horse Breeders Association and under the management of V E Dunn was a great attraction. This black stallion was foaled May 12, 1902, was bred in France and approved by the French Government. He weighs better than 1700 lbs. and is a beauty. Several of his colts were shown, namely a four months old sucker, of 400 lbs. and mare owned by Guy Curtis, Norway; three months old sucking colt, owned by C. H. Dunn, Norway; a two months old sucker belonging to F. P. Morrill, Norway; a three weeks old colt exhibited by C. E. Freeman, Norway and a young sucking colt owned by V. E. Dunn, Norway.

"Tom," a magnificent Gray Percheron stallion, 5 years old weighing 1475 lbs. and owned by Peter Chicoine fomerly of Livermore Falls, now of Riley was here but not exhibited in a class as no colts were present. This noble animal was a well groomed and a sturdy representative of the usual known type, having carried off blue ribbons at many big fairs this year. Mr. Chicoine informed the ADVERTISER that the stallion had won both blue and red ribbons as a breeder and draft horse.

"Sam Ayer" shown by J. S. & J. H. Millett of Norway, stands about 15 hands and weighs 1650 lbs. is a fine animal and a Western bred horse. His colts on exhibition were sucking colts shown by John Austin, Millett Bros. of Norway. E. H. Pike of West Paris and a yearling stallion owned by George Westleigh, Norway.

George Porter of Norway had his fine looking black two-year-old stallion "Sunday" on exhibition. The nice colt is by Ted R., by Francisco, by Stamboul and weighs 860 lbs. He is certainly a good looker and will be heard from later owing to a tendency toward speed. Mr. Porter also showed a brood mare and colt that attracted favorable comment.

Fred S. Bennett, South Paris showed a yearling stallion that weighs 670 lbs. Sired, by Decorate, by Wilkes, by Sea Foam.

C. F. Harriman, South Paris had a yearling filly by Count Direct, weighing 635 lbs, also a four months old colt by Count Direct with peculiar markings.

John B. Robinson of Oxford had two splendid speciments of high type horse flesh on exhibition.

A two-year-old chestnut gelding by Masterpiece and May King is a promising article, and the one-year-old stallion by Commissioner Curtis by Biogen, dam Columbo by Bingen is a splendid specimen.

Fair Notes.

Excursion trains brought in crowds, Wednesday. More than 250 came from Bethel, 200 from West Paris, the same number from Bryant's Pond, 300 from Mechanic Falls and enormous crowds from Lewiston and points below.

Alligator Joe's animal exhibit of large and powerful reptiles drew largely. Hymie and Tiny, baby monkeys, attracted the little folks. The alligator skin hung out front of the show was a novelty up this way and a great curiosity.

Dr. O. K. Yates of West Paris attended the fair, Wednesday. Though showing the effects of his late illness, the genial doctor is active and takes the same interest in the great exhibition as in former years.

Several thousand people lined both sides of the diamond during the ball game, Wednesday. They even extended in a circle around the field. Good police protection kept everything clear and no trouble was experienced in the game.

Flint's Jungle show was the great attraction, especially during the middle day. Albert S. Marcus, formerly with Ringling Bros., is with the show. This gentleman was with us last season as manager of the Hindoo wizard that created such a sensation with the magic wand on the midway. Mr. Marcus is speiler of ability and a real showman.

The St. Cecelia Band made up of twenty-five boys made a decided hit with their concerts near the hall and at the stand during the races, Wednesday and Thursday. Their selections were of the best and well executed.

Queen Kitty, the world's greatest palmist and trance medium, proved an attraction on the lower midway. She is the mystic who predicted the accident and death to the airship avaitor who fell and was killed at Waterville last year (1908.) Queen Kitty is a Boston lady but travels over this broad country casting fortunes for thousands; giving advice in love or business and locating stolen property or lost friends. She has been successful in the last named specialty for many children have been recovered from strolling bands through her psychic knowledge.

A place of honor in the Norway Grange was given to the walsus skull and Narwhal horn brought from the far north by Commander R. E. Peary and given to his friend, J. A. Roberts, who was a classmate of his.

Percy Nevers held the grand stand concession this year. Frank Haskell looked after one stand and Howard Maxim attended to the other, while active assistants canvassed every nook and corner about the seats above.

There was a collision on the electric car line on Main street, Thursday about six o'clock. Although there was no serious damage done except that car No. 4, which run into another car, will have to have the vestibule somewhat repaired and new glass put in the windows.

The Drawing Contests.

The drawing of the oxen and horses was, as usual, very popular and a large crowd of on-lookers was present during all the drawing. Many of the oxen have been seen on the grounds before, while some have changed hands during the past few years.

It was interesting to watch the cattle as they got ready to pull. Some that were a little unruly would turn and wheel, while others would knuckle down and pull the load as far as possible, rest, then start again.

The drivers also displayed their skill as teamsters and showed how well they had trained the animals as well as their own dispositions and it was not always the ones that pulled the farthest that received all the praise for there were many that went shorter distances which did some fine drawing just the same.

Police and Court Records.

The Sturgis Commission, special police and deputy sheriff were busy. Officer W. A. Bicknell, Norway, says forty gallons of liquid streak-lighting was seized and libelled.

From South Paris depot, 34 pints were found. There was a little clashing between the authorities of the railroad and the officers over legal possession of the trunk, but the officers took it and immediately started in to find the owner whom they found came from Lewiston. A warrant was issued for his arrest and later in the day Geo. H. Curtis was arrested for illegal transportation and peddling of liquor and fined some $50 and costs, amounting to $67.32 which he paid.

Anthony Mozell of Gorham, N. H. was nabbed peddling liquor. Before the court pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs amounting to $60 34, paid.

Thomas Perkins of Mechanic Falls was sentenced for intoxication to 30 days in jail. It was his second offence. Arrest made jailer H. D. Cole.

Officers on the grounds: jailer, H. D. Cole, ex-jailer, W. L. Farrar, Charles F. Boober, Henery Lezotte of Lewiston, Ernest C. Hutchins, G. F. Hathaway.

H. D. Cole at South Paris depot took 14 quart bottles of liquor. Officer Bicknell at Norway depot seized several packages containing many pints of liquor. It was on the Canadian Express bearing fictious addresses.

Fred Thibodeau of South Paris when returning from fair grounds to South Paris driving a colt Thursday afternoon ran into Mrs. Wm. D. Edwards as she was alighting from a carriage and at Shurtleiff's Drug Store he was arrested by W. L. Farrar on the charge of intoxication. He came before the court Friday and plead not guilty and asked for a continuance for 24 hours so as to get his witnesses. He gave bail in the sum of $50.00.

Pick Pockets Got in Their Work.

On Wednesday several people when buying tickets, discovered their pockets had been picked. Among the sufferers were Joseph A. Noyes of Paris, who says he lost between $4 and $5 and thinks it was taken while he was making change at the ticket window. Wallace H. Cummings of Paris was relived of $60. Chas. Freeland Penley of Paris, $80. S. E. Howard of Ashland, Mass., who is visiting at his sister's Mrs. S. C. Perkins', 65 Pleasant St., Auburn, lost $25. E. Perley Farrington of Locke's Mills admits the loss of a pocketbook and some money and a check for $75 payable to his order. The payment on the check was promptly stopped. W. Frank Cox of Norway "got touched" to the extent of his pocketbook and what money it contained.

The officers soon got wind of this and in a short time one of the gang was caught reliving the pocket of a person in the hall. He was promptly arrested and searched and there was sufficent evidence to take him to Paris Jail. The arrest was made by Ernest Hutchins of the Norway police department.

The suspect pickpocket gave his name as Harry Morris of Portland. Late in the aftertoon of Thursday he furnished $200 bail for his appearance before the court, Friday, at 10.30 a. m. At the appointed hour he failed to put in an appearance and forfeited the money to the county.

Bad For the Complexion.

A noted skin specialist has declared that chocolate and potatoes are the two worst things a woman can eat who has regard for her complexion. Of these the former is much more injurious.

It used to be that we shunned these staples of diet only when there was too much flesh. Then we learned, says an exchange, that potato was bad for the digestion. Now that our skins suffer as well, it would seem as if their doom were sealed.

But with the soda water fountains to tempt and the greatest potato eaters in the world—the Irish lasses—famed for their exquisite skins, there is still a probability that neither chocolate nor the "praty" will be tabooed immediately.

Park of Bethel was counsel for the plaintiff, and Hon. James S. Wright for Mann. The action is one of trespass, for cutting the growth on a lot of land in Bethel. The real question is as to the title to the land, and it is complicated somewhat by claims under "adverse possession," on the one hand, and by tax titles on the other. The deceased claimant for whom the plaintiff appears as administrator formerly lived in Connecticut, and Mann is a well known manufacturer living at West Paris. The report of the referee will be made at the October term of court.

Ask Her This Question

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Houston, Texas.—"When I first began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had been sick for three years with female troubles, chronic dyspepsia, and a liver trouble. I had tried several doctor's medicines, but nothing did me any good.

"For three years I lived on medicines and thought I would never get well, when I read an advertisment of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and was advised to try it.

"My husband got me one bottle of the Compound, and it did me so much good I continued its use. I am now a well woman and enjoy the best of health.

"I advise all women suffering from such troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. They won't regret it, for it will surely cure you."—Mrs. Bessie L. Hicks, 819 Cleveland St., Houston.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Hicks.

Careless of Our Timber.

"White pine, for instance, which was once considered inexhaustible, has fallen off 70 per cent in cut since 1890, and more than 45 per cent since 1900. The cut of oak, our most valuable hardwood lumber, has decreased 16 per cent since 1900, and that of yellow poplar 22 per cent. The same story will be told of other woods if they are not conserved.

"The fact that timber has been cheap and abundant has made us careless of its production and reckless in its use. We take 250 cubic feet of wood per capita annually from our forests.

"The Typhoid Fly."

"Sailing on obscene wings" comes the fly to us. He should be regarded everywhere as a being of evil omen. He is a distributor of filth and infection. He is small but the bacteria which start pestilences are much smaller. His feet are hairy and armed with claws and suckers and on them he may carry many of the germs of disease. The filthiness of his habits leads him to visit and crawl over the most offensive and dangerous material—human and animal excreta, putrifying carcasses, the outlets of sewers and sink drains, tubercular sputum, infectious sores on man or animals, nose lips and skin of persons with eruptive and other contagious diseases. Then, if we allow him to do so, he straightway wings his flight to the lips of the sleeping babe, or to our pantry or dinner table; and that is not merely a question of smearing with filth, for the system of the child is a good culture field for many of these infections, and many of the food products, of the dishes which have been prepared for us, or of the left-overs from our table, are very favorable nurture media for the rapid development and increase of some disease germs, so that the few typhoid or other bacteria which may be brought by the fly may quickly become millions. But it is not always a few bacteria that the fly carries. Experiments in the Agricultural Experiment Station, Storrs, Conn., with 415 flies determined that each fly horbored upon his person from 550 to 6,600,000 bacteria. The average number was one and one-fourth million.

Thus it is that the exculsion of flies from our homes is not merely a question of asthetics, or of neatness, but it is a question of taking rational precautions against real dangers.

By means of door-screens and window-screens flies should be kept from our houses.

Sources of filth about the home should be abolished so far as possible, so that flies may not serve as carriers of it.

The fly can breed only in filth, any place where dirt or rubbish in a damp condition is allowed to remain undisturbed more than a week.

Good Results

From Directoire Models.

The extreme Directoire modes may have deserved all the criticism and abuse they have received, but one thing at least may be said in their praise, one virtue may be credited to them—they have brought about an admirable reform in lingerie garments, and though the Directoire frock may pass, the good it has done in the line of underwear will live after it.

Of course women have gone to extremes in underwear fads as well as in clinging frock lines. Petticoats were discarded. Many a woman laid aside altogether the fascinating fluffiness of muslin and lace and went in for silk tights, which in some cases extended into union suits. French designers and makers of fine lingerie were for a time in despair, but the cloud passed and now even the petticoats are frou-frouing back into favor and the day of the tights is waning, if not altogether past.

But the new lingerie still shows the effects of ruthless suppression. It has lost none of its prettiness, but it is no longer aggressive, and it has gained amazingly in shapeliness.

There were always women who had their underwear carefully fitted, neatly finished, skillfully adjusted, but the average woman took her muslin undergarments as they came and was thankful if they came in fine materials and dainty design. That they were full where they should not be full, that bands shirred up on strings and that strings were tied in ungainly knots, that waistbands slipped up—all these were minor details of no importance.

Undergarments approximately fitted were satisfactory, and full blouses, ample skirts and belts or girdles hid superfluous folds and knots and bulkiness.

Then the triumph of "la ligne," the vogue of the clinging one-piece robe or directoire model with glove fitting skirt. Made of supple light stuffs, these frocks showed every wrinkle and bulge and excrecence in the underwear, and, presto, change, the underwear adjusted itself to the new conditions and the combination argument began a triumphal career.

Having known them it is not likely that women of dainty tastes will give them up, even though frocks and ample draperies come in again.

Many of these combination garments are elaborately and exquisitely trimmed with lace and hand embroidery, but such elaboration is not essential to daintiness and charm.

Delightful models are made up in cross bar batiste or very fine cross bar lawn with no trimming save lines of embroidery beading and edges of narrow valenciennes.

If well cut and carefully made these are satisfactory models, and others almost as simple but in fine plain material are as likeable in their own way.

The chief things are that the garment shall be well cut and finished and that the material shall not be coarse, says the Evening Times.

Hand-made underwear is of course always preferable to the machine made article, greater perfection of finish being possible in the hand work; but some high grade machine made garments are now shown in the shops.

Worked eyelets in all sizes play an important part in the scheme of lingerie decoration, appearing around waist, neck and flounce top, and sometimes on the deep petticoat flounce itself wide ribbon will be threaded through large embroidered slits and tied in a soft bow at the left side.

Machine made beadings beautiful in design and quality are lavishly used, too, for ribbons are an essential item in the dainty woman's lingerie and added considerably to the cost and trouble of keeping oneself satisfactorily equipped.

Didn't Think.

Standing in the middle of a room his wife had just swept, a man in opening a letter, tore off the end of the envelope and dropped the four or five pieces on the floor. I suppose he didn't think that his wife, who had just said that she was sick, would have to pick them up.

A man (don't tell that I said he was a preacher) whom I know loves his wife, lighted a lamp and threw the match, still blazing, on the carpet. Somebody would have to pick it up. Somebody's carpet was scorched. Evidently he didn't think.

Sitting right by the coal scuttle when he wanted to sharpen his pencil, he turned round and let all the two dozen chips fall on the carpet. The little woman sitting by didn't say anything, but after a while she got the broom and dust pan and cleaned up the untidy litter. He didn't think.

A man sat in front of a fireplace chewing tobacco and spitting. He sat pretty far back and the hearth was badly smeared. It didn't look well. Nothing was said about it. But when he and I had been out into the yard and came back I noticed that the hearth had been washed. Who did it? He sat down and again began to smear it. More work for one already a-weary. But of course he didn't think.

He was quite entertaining at the table. The hostess laughed a good deal at his wit. At the close there was a wind-row of peelings and fragments around his plate, not to mention dabs of gravy and pieces of butter. The hostess had put on her best company table cloth, and hoped it would do for one or two more company dinners. Of course he didn't think.

Didn't think? But a thinker needs attention when it doesn't work any better than that.

Honeymoon Reading.

The house had quieted after the wedding. Mother and Aunt Mary were in the parlor talking it over.

"So it's over," said Aunt Mary, smiling into mother's eyes.

"Yes," said mother bravely, although a little tearfully, "it's over—and begun."

"They'll be happy, I'm sure."

"Yes. They are very well suited to each other."

"Very. I could see that. They both have studious habits."

"Yes. But, Mary"—mother paused, and the gleam of mischief evoked by Aunt Mary sooner than anyone else darted into her eyes—"Mary, they can't have much sense of humor. Though it's my own girl, I say it."

"Why not?"

"Do you know what she took to read on their wedding journey? Stevenson's 'Travels With a Donkey.'"

FRED KILGORE, East Waterford, Me

"Them That Dance Must Pay the Fiddler."

That Maine genius of Maine, Uncle Solon Chase, gave this rare and racy talk:

He began by saying that one of the shortest speeches he ever made was, "There's too much hog in the dollar." That was many years ago, and times have changed since then. Methods have cut the gold dollar in two. As a consequence, farms that were worth $100 are now worth $200, because there's more money with which to buy them. Years ago Horace Greeley said, "Young man, go West," but if he was alive to-day and kicking—and he'd be kicking if he was alive, (laughter) he'd say, "Young man, stay in the East."

Maine is the best state in the Union. New England is the best section of the country. If we should annex New England to Maine, we'd use New York for a sheep pasture (laughter). Maine has more salt water, more lumber and more good farming land than any other state. It is the center of the best apple belt. If we put as much elbow-grease into our orchards as the people of Aroostook county do into their potato fields, our hills would be covered with apple trees and land would be worth $100 an acre. Why? Partly because the dollar is growing smaller and there's less hog in it.

But everything is not ideal, and are not as we are going to have them. Rum selling is wrong, but so long as there is a demand for liquor as a beverage, some one will sell it to get the almighty dollar. Resubmission is a backward step. We can use the law as a lever, but we must use friendliness as fulcrum. We've got to get at the boys and raise them so they'll not know the taste of rum when they's men

We must learn to love our neighbor as ourselves. If we did there'd be no need of coal or food famines. No doubt if we were placed in a position to manage a monopoly, we'd charge some citizens more than others, because of our greed to get the almighty dollar uncontrolled by brotherly love. It is human nature to raise the price of oil.

If a crank should discover a way to utilize the power that controls the universe, no doubt some one would make a trust of it and we'd all want a place on the ground floor. (Laughter.) The only trouble in regulating the trust is that we want a piece of it ourselves.

Carnegie says it's a disgrace to be rich. But it's inconvenient to be poor. To be sure, the millionaire has responsibilities and strains on his mind that the man don't have who makes tracks in a barnyard. (Laughter.) The rich are too much engrossed with their private affairs to give attention to public matters. It's the man of moderate means who has the time to settle the affairs of the country.

I believe generations to come will eliminate war as a pastime and rum as a beverage. But in spite of all our wars and rumors of wars, the world is better in spots than it was 80 years ago. Our grand and great-grandchildren will give their attention more to peaceful pursuits than we have. They will wonder why we, the most enlightened nation in the world, fought our brothers to free the slaves, when in one year enough is paid in pensions alone to have freed our slaves.

Good as our schools are they should be improved. We should make them so attractive that the children would cry to go. What is taught the children in the nursery and schoolroom will be the platform of the people. If brotherly love is in the hearts of our statesmen they will not go astray. It is the hand that rocks the cradle that rules the head of the nation. A mother has more influence over the boy than the father. If a child is in danger, he always runs to his mother.

I went fishing one Sunday morning when I was a boy. Got up before the other folks were awake. After catching three good trout I went home because I had a feeling that it wasn't just right to go fishing on Sunday. When I went into the kitchen my father said:

"Solon, you know it isn't right to go fishing." He looked stern and I expected to have my jacket tanned.

My mother told me to clean the fish, which I did. As the odor of the fresh trout, frying, reached my father, his expression changed. His face didn't look so elongated—it looked more natural. (Laughter.) We ate the trout for breakfast and my father ate as much as I did. After breakfast my mother called me to her side and said:

"Solon, I wish you wouldn't go fishing any more on Sunday."

I didn't promise her that I wouldn't but I did promise her that I'd cut the stove wood finer and I did. Somehow after that I didn't have any desire to go fishing on Sunday again, and never have been from that day to this.

My mother conquered me with kind words and love; she conquered father with the smell of fresh trout. (Laughter.)

I like to trip the light fantastic toe, but I always have had money enough to pay the fiddler.

Be Natural.

The frog who tried to swell himself to the dimensions of an ox burst.

Keeping up with the procession, living on a scale as elaborate and expensive as those more fortunately placed, makes of life a veritable burden to thousands who might enjoy the comforts while foolishly trying to have the luxuries.

If Mrs. Jones gives a swell dinner to her friends you must imitate her and give one too, with an even more expensive menu, though you have to borrow the money to supply the viands or get them on credit.

Is the game worth the candle, even for the time that you are able to hold forth the silly pretension?

Why fret and fume about new clothes when the old will do just as well? Why have more dresses than you can wear, and six trunks when one will suffice?

Don't be a slave of fashion. Assert your freedom. Be genuine, be yourself. The easiest way to be happy is to be natural.

To be natural requires both courage and common sense. If you insist on living sensibly you may be called "mean" and if you refuse to wear yourself out and worry yourself sick with all sorts of social whimsicalities and extravagances you may be dubbed "eccentric." But go your way unheeding, dare to be singular. In the end the world will respect you for your display of individuality. Any dead fish can swim with the tide.

To thine own self be true,
And it must follow, as night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.

It requires a high quality of courage to have a decent self-respect that can brave public criticism, and scorn and conventionalities of society, keep faith with inner convictions and remain all the time true to the best principles of a sound womanhood.

Be free! Spread your pinions and soar aloft into the realms of light, where you can look down on the follies, shams and insincerities of the glittering, gilded, hollow throng.

If you have been already caught in the snares of society's tinselled web, if you have allowed yourself to be harnessed to the chariot of custom, loaded down to the limit, groaning under its burden and imperiously driven by its stinging lash, you can free yourself by becoming natural and keeping true to your own self-respect and dignity.

Don't try to duplicate your neighbor. Nature never makes a duplicate. One of us is enough. Don't worry over the fact that she has more baggage to lug around than you. Your lightness gives you freedom for which you should be thankful.

Shake off the stamp of artificiality. Don't let yourself be tagged by conventionality.

Be yourself. Respect life more than things, and you will be happy and contented in the might of a noble womanhood.

Wheat Cleaned Six Times

"The equipment for wheat cleansing is as extensive and expensive as that for grinding purposes. The freedom of flour from dirt and bacteria shows in its appearance."
PROF. WM. JAGO,
in National Association Review.

Wheat specially selected for William Tell Flour is stored in hermetically sealed tanks, at Ansted & Burk's big mills.

It is cleaned six times before grinding. Everything—even the sewing of the bags—is done by clean, bright machinery.

Note how much purer William Tell is than other flours. This means wheat cleaning by the most complete equipment known to modern milling science. William Tell Flour has the brilliant bloom such as only Ohio wheat can make.

The case of old crockery and the painted pictures, the birds and animals set up with the true art of a taxidermist, the hooked rugs and the art embroidery and all kinds of fancy work speak loudly for the artistic taste of the Grangers.

They did their work thorough and presented one of the best all round settings seen in this department for years.

The Annual Meeting.

Not quite the record for shortness was the seven minutes expended in the annual meeting of the Oxford County Agricultural society, which was called to order at 1 o'clock Thursday, by President William J. Wheeler of South Paris.

President Wheeler stated that the business of the meeting was to elect for a term of two years successors to President William J. Wheeler of South Paris, secretary and treasurer, William O. Frothingham of South Paris, and trustees, T. P. Richardson and H. F. Andrews of Norway, whose terms expired this year.

These four officers were then re-elected, a single ballot being cast in each case.

Brief complimentary remarks were made by the member making the nomination of each one, and the nominations were greeted with applause from the members present.

President Wheeler in introducing the business of electing a president said that he had been president ten years, and did not desire to continue in the position against the wishes of a single member, though he would accept a re-election if it was the general desire. The response was definite and emphatic, and Mr. Wheeler is president for another term, by unanimous vote.

The Parade.

The usual track exhibition was called at 10.30 Thursday and extended over the entire course. Marshal A. S. Fuller, Oxford, was in the lead followed by platoon of police. Next came the St. Cecilian band of boys, Lewiston. Carriages containing the officers of the Association and trustees followed. Premium horses and colts, draught horses in single and double hitches made a large display, numbering forty in all.

In the second division came a marshal, followed by a long line of fine blooded ribbon stock. There were bulls, steers, cows, calves and oxen, some Jerseys, many Holstein, several Durhams and other breeds. More than forty single animals and fifty yoke of oxen and steers made up this last display.

Another Look at the Horses.

F. R. Hayden of Lewiston has four handsome horses. Alberta G., who made a record of 2.18¾ at the State fair this year; Brounette has a record of 2.15¼ and will start in the free-for-all; Alcy Bell, whose record is 2.18¼, will start in the 18 class and LaColbert with a record of 2.21¼. These horses are in charge of Harry Oree, Johnny Johnson, Robbin Jarvis and Charlie Gordon.

B. W. Penley of Auburn has a beautiful looking stallion that will enter the 22 class. This horse is Maine bred, sired by Merrill, dam Maude Titus. He has a record of 2.22½.

George H. Jones of Oxford has his 3-year-old colt at the grounds and is entered in the 3-year-old class, also his 3-year-old colt, Outward Bound.

J. B. Robinson of Oxford has his 5-year-old colt which will enter in the 40 and 50 class; a 2-year-old gelding by Masterpiece and May King. This colt's dam is by Onward and is a fine shaped horse. Mr. Robinson's 1-year-old colt by Commissioner Curtis by Bingen, dam Columbo by Bingen, is a beauty and can be seen in stall 37.

Sam Ayer owned by J. S. & J. E. Millett of Norway is in stall 54. This draft horse has many admirers. He is a dapple grey Percheron weighing 1700 pounds.

A Stroll Down the Midway.

The electric lights were put in the tents where they were desired and are a great improvement to the grounds as well, for each evening there is quite a crowd on the ground, and a lot of pennies picked up at the different booths.

All sorts of amusements as well as eatables can be purchased along the midway. The signs are all in their place and he who has a favorite whom he wishes to patronize can easily find them on the grounds.

Many of the venders have been at this fair for a long term of years and have a lot of friends whom they meet each year and it is often heard remarked, "I must get something at Mr. So and So's booth. I do every year."

Walker's Shows are a good attraction along the mid-way and are well patronized. Flint's Wild Animals are another attraction which we should see, as it is instructive as well as interesting and you will see animals which you've often read about but seldom seen.

The Ferris Wheel was another feature which caused a considerable of attention during the first of the afternoon.

Mary Deprez of Chicago, a pretty little girl of 15 years is on the ground this year and sings duets with her brother, John, who plays an accompaniment on an autoharp. Miss Deprez is an invalid and is obliged to go on crutches for when she was 15 months old she had a paralytic shock and has been obliged to use them. John Deprez also goes on crutches as he fractured his ankle a week ago last Friday at the Waterville fair by falling from the parachute at the baloon ascension. The singing by these young people is very good and they attract a large crowd of listeners, who drop the silver coin into the receptical passed by the young folks' mother, Mrs. Ann Deprez. The Deprez family are on their way to Canada.

Under the Grand Stand.

Agricultural Implements.

The exhibits are not large yet they are interesting to the farmer and any other persons using the machinery there displayed. The Cummings Mfg. Co., South Paris, show the well known O. K. plow. These appear decidedly modern and substantial beside that old timer also on exhibition near by. They have five styles of land plows and four swivel plows. The Cummings Double Runner Pung is a substantial set of sleds and should hold up at least a ton weight.

A. W. Walker & Son have a large display of farming machinery: the National Reversible sulky plow; the Wizard sulky plow; the Oliver sulky plow; the Oliver swivel and Cambridge plows are prominent in this excellent display. The Yankee pulverizer harrow, horse-tooth cultivator, corn planters and the Gale-Baldwin ensilage and fodder cutter make up this instructive show. More than 20 implements in all are seen in the A. W. Walker & Son's space.

Poultry.

Never in the history of the association have so many fine birds and large number of coops been entered for premiums. Every poultry raiser just caught the fever and had fine, clean birds, mostly in pairs, entered and the competition proved keen.

E. A. Wight of Harrison seems to be the largest exhibitor, presenting in all 25 coops containing fine appearing Columbian and Silver Wyandotte, both chicks and fowl; R. I. Reds. White and Brown Leghorns, Black Minorcas, ducks and geese. This display attracted large attention and is a clean show of well-formed birds.

Fred LaBarron, South Paris, shows Rhode Island Red chicks, fancy ducks. Carrol Delano has young geese and one pair of older birds. A. E. Morse, South Paris, shows three coops of excellent looking ducks and geese with a sale price attached. Mrs. Geo. B. Stone, West Paris, also has geese in two coops.

U. S. G. Abbott has two coops of Golden Buff Rock. Bantam fowls are on exhibition by Myra G. Haggett, South Paris; black turkeys are shown by Robert Davis, South Paris; Mrs. Mary O. Dow, South Paris, has White and Barred Plymouth Rocks; J. B. Field, Norway, has Houdan chicks, Brahma fowls and chicks; Blue Andelusians by Wm. McDaniels, Norway; also Partridge Wyandottes by Gerald McDaniels.

Prince Snow gives mottled Aconda chicks, White Wyandottes, April chicks; Mrs. G. S. Westleigh, Norway, shows Silver Face Wyandottes and Rhode Island Reds, seven coops in all. A. R. Bennett, Norway, has a pair of Black Minorcas. Arthur Tuttle shows a pair of Silver Spangles; H. B. Doughty offers white Wyandotte chicks; Chester R. Wyman, South Paris, has Orpington chicks and white Wyandotte; H. M. Goodwin has on exhibition two pairs Houdan chicks and Rhode Island Reds

R. O. Porter Norway, occupies considerable space with barred Plymouth Rocks, and they show off to excellent advantage. Aaron Yeaton, Norway, offers two coops white Plymouth Rocks, one coop bronze turkey fowl and chicks, white Leghorn fowl and Seabright chicks: Russell Swift, West Paris, gives white Leghorns.

V. L. Partridge, Norway Lake, offers two coops of barred Plymouth Rocks, fowl and chicks. Nathan Tompkins, Norway, exhibits two coops of Minorcas, fowl and chicks. These birds are attracting general attention among the many poultry men.

Harry Lovejoy, Norway, exhibits a pair of black Minorca fowl that draw also. Game Bantams offered by Harold Drake are true to name and show the spirit of the age. W. C. Thayer, South Paris, has R. I. Red fowl and chicks in six coops.

D. H. Bean, South Paris, has a neat front, containing seven coops holding white Wyandottes and Columbians of fine plumage and form.

E. P. Crockett, South Paris, has five coops white Plymouth Rocks, fowls and chicks; Harry E. Lovejoy, Norway, gives in his second exhibit Cornish Indian game fowls and white Plymouth Rock.

Guy R. Estes, Norway, offers buff Orpingtons in four neat coops. These birds draw favorable comment from excellent judges; they are good form and healthy. An extra coop containing one pair black Orpingtons from G. R. Estes' flock is another good looking lot.

Bert. Flint, North Waterford, has seven neat coops nicely arranged. They contain brown Leghorns in pairs and are a creditable show. C. R. Penley, South Paris, gives one pair blue Andelusian chicks, Guinea fowl and Bantams.

F. P. Morrill, Norway, has R. I. Reds, fowls and chicks, in three coops. Edwin G. Dunn exhibits Bantams in three coops and they are nice looking birds and gamey.

Jesse Smith of West Paris shows; R. I. Reds, buff cochins, Brown Leghorns, F. H. Crockett of South Paris has one crop containing a pair of good looking Brown Leghorn chickens. George F. Robinson of West Paris exhibits Leghorns; Edwin A. DeCoster of South Paris, one pair Bantam fowls and one pair Bantam chicken.

Guy C. Boutelle of West Paris, shows one pair Bantam fowls; Arthur Dow of South Paris has four Bantam chickens and they are beauties; Bertie Swallow of South Paris also has four Bantam chickens in one coop and they are fine appearing birds, he also shows a pair of nice looking Bantams fowls. Sands and Barbruer of South Paris show silver faced Wyandotts; Indian Ducks and American Dominique chickens of fine blood.

On the whole this display of poultry this year is the best seen in years. People appear to be taking interest in this particular department and enter clean coops, well-bred birds and splendid variety. We should not forget to mention a pair of white rabbits exhibited by Ruby Jordan of Norway.

A Rumpus in the Jungle.

Flint, the man with the Jungle Show, had another rumpus with that vicious Mexican Leopard, Monday night. While the manager was passing food into the cage through the narrow door this sly creature made a spring for liberty and barely missed getting away. This is certainly an untamable animal and probably will never become accustomed to the cage. Assistant Bancroft keeps a constant watch over this tricky cat during the daylight hours.

May Run All Night.

The mid-way was run evenings because of the brilliant arc lights placed at convenient places down that narrow strip. It proved a great thing to the fakirs and soft drink dispensers and they reaped a well ripened harvest each evening for several hundred people roamed about the tents in idle curiosity.

Once more the Fair Grounds has been put in readiness for the Oxford County Agricultural Fair. Friday afternoon the tents and booths along the Midway were beginning to be raised and Saturday night found a large number all equipped and doing business.

The first thing that attracts one's attention as he enters the grounds is the 50-foot Ferris wheel which is situated near the gate. This machine belongs to E. H. Fellows of Lancaster, N. H., who has been here for the past five years. The merry-go-round which is located farther down the midway also belongs to Mr. Fellows and is one of the best traveling machines in New England. Mr. Fellows has twelve people working for him and they have their 50 by 20 foot boarding tent located between the tracks. The tent is divided into sleeping compartments and has a good sized kitchen, where all their food is prepared.

Mr. Fellows is giving the little ones a chance to enjoy themselves on the merry-go-round or Ferris wheel. John Morrill and wife are the cooks engaged to feed this happy family and they do their work to perfection. In the company besides Mr. and Mrs. Fellows are Frank Boutwell, Harry Fellows, Bessie Fellows, Harry Merrill and Frank Sousa. The merry-go-round is practically new, having been overhauled, newly painted, new running gear and track added. The steam engine is the thing of the past for the outfit is run this year by an 8 h. p. gasoline engine and is a success. Both machines are doing a banner winning business.

G. W. Foster of South Framingham, Mass., has two large lunch tents, where lunches are served at all hours. This is Mr. Foster's 38th year at the Fair Grounds.

F. W. Knox of Farmington has a lunch counter, where stews, pastry, moxie, ice cream and cigars are sold.

Sam Goldstein of Portland sells his ice cream sandwiches from his wagon.

Otto Schlesinger has a booth where hot waffles can be procured.

The stand which bears the sign "5 Dollar value for $1.25" is the stand belonging to Abe Weisner of New York, who was present last year and is selling woolen sweaters.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Spencer of Old Town are present this year, which is the tenth year that they have attended this fair with their booth where they make candy and ice cream, fix their peanuts and sell a nice grade of candies, lemonade, tonics and fancy chocolates.

This is Thomas Tatro's first year, who runs a bowling alley.

M. F. Smith has a game of ten pins.

Eugene Doyle of North Leeds has a bowling alley, rag dolls and the game of ten pins.

Lewis Emmons of Brunswick has a game of ten pins.

John W. Kerrigan of Portland sells all kinds of cool drinks, frankforts and a full line of fancy fruits.

M. S. Emile sells soft drinks of all kinds and cigars.

Paul Pingree of Byfield and James York of Norway have a ten pin game.

M. Gonyer of Lewiston sells frankforts, fruit and soft drinks of all kinds.

A. E. Cellamore of Portland sells frankforts, lemonade, orangeade and Elre's root beer.

C. A. Wilson of Boston sells refreshments of all kinds, also all kinds of soft drinks.

Hiram Doughty of Providence has three ice cream stands, one in the hall, one near the door and the other on the midway.

At the right of the entrance a little way from the gate is a large dining tent, where Holt & McClure, caterers from Dover, N. H., serve meals of all kinds at all hours.

Mark Anderson of Boston has a booth bearing the sign "Ken ucky Kid" and is known as the African Dodger and if you hit him the cigar is yours.

Among the other amusements are the three large tents, where high class vaudeville shows are given consisting of musical comedies, moving pictures, Wild West, real cow-boys and Indians. These shows are conducted by L. B. Walker of Boston. Mr. Walker has conducted shows here for a number of years before.

Millie Nina, the world's greatest palmist, who predicted the accident of Carl Smith in the balloon some two years ago, is here. She also predicted the election of Charles Littlefield and has made other wonderful predictions that have made her famous.

Shawnee Bills' great four-way-show conducted by Mr. Walker is present, also snakes, alligators, birds and all sorts and kinds of reptiles are shown from a mammouth platform.

The familiar face of Doc Howard, who always has a smile and is a good talker, is seen once more. Mr. Howard is principal orator for the Walker shows and he will be remembered as the man who lectured for the Philippine village last year.

Another very interesting feature along the midway is Cantara's Working World. This show consists of 57 miniature forms displayed on the stage, who all have some particular feat to perform and they do it in a very interesting way. On one side a train enters, the gate keeper steps up and opens the gate and allows it to pass. Another man is sawing wood, while on the lake appears a boat with two people out rowing. In another place the week's wash is being done, and of course this is only a small part of the different feats which these "small people" perform, and it is certainly a fine piece of mechanism.

J. O. Elwell of Brunswick, who has been on the grounds at the fair for the past eleven years and who is known as "The Hot Frankfort Man," is situated near the gate this year. Besides frankforts he has for sale pastry, sodas and cigars.

Queen Etta, the palmist or fortune teller, is located near the gate.

F. L. Starbird of Norway had his restaurant open for business at an early hour. Mr. Starbird takes regular mealers besides selling fruit and candy.

Ed. Slocum and wife, working under the name "Slocum and West" are the head liners with L. B. Walker's vaudeville show. The couple work double in a neat and clean banjo turn which runs about eight minutes, but not a dull moment in the whole act. This well known team of banjo experts joined the company at Bangor and have made good since the opening performance. They always work, so a large part of their time is on big house circuits catering to audiences appreciating a novel and clear specialty. This act alone is well worth many times the price of admission.

"The Jungle" owned by Linwood Flint, that well known "Barnum of Oxford County," has a swell frame up half way down the busy midway. We all have heard of the girl in red but the "man in red" is a novelty and Manager Flint is playing the role with his scarlet uniform and dazzling tent front of the same color. It is truly a wonderful natural history exposition, showing curious and strange animals of which we all have heard but seldom seen in this climate. Monkeys, Chinese dragons, that spiteful Mexican leopard, peccarys, a sly grave robber, Katinka and her peculiar baby, prairie marmots and many other beasts safely caged make up the exhibit. "Buster Brown," the trained bear cub, has made hosts of friends by his modesty and funny tricks. This is Manager Flint's second appearance here with the well known Jungle show and everybody is talking about the exhibit in words of warmest praise. Ladies and children are greatly taken by this educational institution and are warmly welcomed by the genial showman.

Officer Charles Boober is keeping excellent order about the grounds during the long, dark hours. This genial guardian of the law experiences little trouble with the class of fakirs who would raise a rough house at the slightest provocation and handles the people in a firm but tactful way. This is Officer Boober's sixth year in the service of the association.

The Hindoo fortune teller is gathering horoscopes from the mysterious beyond by the use of that strange magic wand. His business is rushing for many there are who seem willing to give up a dime, if the blank white paper will divulge strange and weird secrets of love, business or social aspirations. This is the same Hindoo that set people talking and won flattering press notices during the State fair last week.

James Tubbs of Norway has a booth where frankforts, hot and cold drinks can be bought.

Charles D. Jackson of Lewiston sells lunches of frankforts, etc.

W. E. Bartlett of Norway sells a combination watch fob and grip tag, and is located near the large gate.

Morneau & Tardiff of Lewiston have a booth where frankforts, sandwiches, hot coffee and ice cream are on sale.

Perfumery and flowers are sold by T. J. Dunbar of Portland.

J. J. Boucher of Auburn has a booth where the greatesr freak calf of its kind can be seen.

Among the Tents.

"That tent over there with wild west pictures all over the front and a man discharging a pistol in front, what's that?"

"Nothing but a picture show."

"And that further along? Oh, yes, you can see now, only a big ox from somewhere up country.

"And that in that cage where you go up and look over the rail. Don't know. Oh well, never mind, people don't seem to be staying very long."

Nothing immoral about these, eh?

Yes; there are some fortune tellers and they seem to be furnishing a lot of fun too. Here are two or three young fellows having a friendly little scuffle with one of them about something. One of them gets hold of a little slip of paper and tucks it in his pocket. "You bet I won't let you see it" he says to the others as they go off together.

"Them boys is just awful;" remarks the soothsayer, a big, jolly looking fat woman to those waiting around.

Two deer were seen early Wednesday morning quietly feeding in E. C. Henley's field. Mr. Henley and wife and Ernest Grover watched them for some time without alarming them at all. Doubtless they had studied the calendar and were well posted on the game laws, consequently felt secure from harm.

If some Nimrod in search of game or sport would spend a few nights in Merritt Sawin's corn field possibly it would result in pleasure and profit to both, for the coons or something which is thought to be that "varmint" is making havoc with Mr. Sawin's sweet corn, and traps failing to stop the marauder, rifles or shot guns might prove more effectual.

Mrs. Vaun Rand Brightwell and daughter Marion of Boston and Lulu McIntire of East Waterford visited among relatives here and at North Waterford last week. Mrs. Brightwell is the daughter of Willis M. Rand, formerly of this place but who has for many years been connected with an electric motor company in Boston.

Woman's Wiles.

As a married couple were walking down one of the main thoroughfares the husband noted the attention which other women obtained from passers-by and remarked to his better half:

"Folks never look at you. I wish I had married someone better looking."

The woman tartly replied: "It's your fault. Do you think a man will stare at me when your're walking with me? You step behind and see whether men don't look at me."

The husband hung back about a dozen yards, and for the length of the street was surprised to see every man his wife passed stare hard at her and even turn around and look at her

"Sure, lassie!" he exclaimed, as he rejoined her. "I was wrong and I'll take it back. I'll never say aught about your looks again."

The wife had made a face at every man she met.

"A Rose by Any Other Name."

What's that fellow shouting at the top of his lungs in front of that little tent? What!

"Step right up if you want a nice cool drink of beer. Nice cool beer is to be had right here! Here's your nice cool beer!"

Sounds awful, doesn't it? However does he dare to do it?

There are other tents where "refreshing drinks" are to be had but no one undertakes to say "beer" right out loud at a Maine cattle show as this fellow did. Shame on him.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

M. A. Dunham Snow-shoes in Rochester, New York.

About two weeks before the great news from Peary, Arthur P. Hayden of Rochester, N. Y., received a pair of the genuine Dunham snow-shoes. The New York people were much interested in the snow-shoes, especially on being told they were of the same make as those worn by the Peary party.

It happened that they arrived on Exchange street on a very warm day. The expressman was mopping his forehead as he came to the door. A news' boy passing by said, "Gee whiz! great day for snow-shoes."

However, everyone wants to see "the snow-shoes from Maine" and several reporters have called at Mr. Hayden's office to find out all about them. In consequence, M. A. Dunham's name has appeared in several of the Rochester papers. The shoes are made from Maine products, by a Maine man and served the expedition well. Norway is proud of the fact. Congratulations to Mr. Dunham.

Fair Notes.

The Cattle Show ball will be at New Hall, South Paris.

The president, Wm. J. Wheeler, and secretary, W. O. Frothingham are busy men.

How to have fun, though moral and refined? To that problem our agricultural Fairs and Cattle Shows are now addressing themselves.

It was as happy, well dressed and good looking a holiday crowd as could be found in New England, typical of such a festival and representative of thrifty "Oxford Bears."

"G-e-n-t-l-e-m-e-n a-n-d l-d-i-e-s, you are now before the tent of a big vaudeville show, the one that you have read about in the newspapers. We have with us in this company 12 artists, and each and every one has been secured at an enormous expense for this particular exhibition. This is a show, ladies and gentlemen, which is a show which is both moral and refined, to which you can bring your mothers and your children. There is nothing to be seen or heard that can offend the most refined."

The racing track has been put in fine condition and is as good a track as is found in this section of the country.

Monday morning the drivers of fast horses were on the track early getting a lay of the land and trying out the speed of the horses and as the fleet footed steeds speed past many were the remarks of the by-standers as to the good qualities possessed by the different horses and the possibility and probablity that such and such a one was sure to win.

The Electric Light Company have put electricity in to the different tents where lights and power of this kind are needed. There are several ark lights put up along the midway to light the grounds.

The hall was early in being put in readiness and the exhibits were readily put in their respective places.

One Man's Fate.

This man did not judge the babies at Oxford County Agricultural Fair. There everything is always pleasant. Miss Libby is to take the four prize winner's pictures:—

"Once I knew a man who acted as judge at a baby show. He took the job against his own best judgment. He prayed that night for wisdom to guide him. His friends all told him he'd regret the step. But he was green and obstinate and went ahead.

"He's never been the same person since. A man in the prime of life, he looks to be 90. Before the baby show, he could count his friends among the women folks by the hundreds. Now, they all shun him—with just one exception—'tis the mother of the kid that got the prize for being the handsomest and cutest.

"That man just escaped from the hall with his life."

Freeport Easy.

The Radcliffe base ball team closed their season last Saturday by easily defeating the Freeport team with a slabsided score of 8 to 3.

From the start the visitors never had a peep in and were outclassed in every move. Not until the seventh did a Freeport player reach third base and then only after the Norwayites grew less. Uncle William didn't work hard enough to increase his circulation but just tossed in an off-hand way regardless of hits which never came in dangerous bunches.

The Freeport boys tried to put up a fast game and are a clean lot of well meaning followers of the great sport. They deserved to have better luck but were outclassed and checkmated at every move until Radcliffe slowed down to give the good natured visitors a little show. Small, Merrill and Patterson of the visitors had by far the best showing as ball players but a ragged support just turned the game into a frazzle.

The score:

William Leith Called to Massachusetts.

William Leith, who has been pitcher and manager of the Radcliffe nine of Norway for the past two years, was unexpectedly called to Lawrence, Mass., on account of sickness, the first of this week. The team is to play two games of ball at the fair grounds, but before he leaves he is to find a good pitcher to take his place.

Mr. Leith has made many friends while here, and his team has been very successful in winning games this season.

The bills connected with the association have been paid and we feel it has been with him a very successful season. His friends are sorry he could not have stayed through this week, but it was his duty to leave at once.
